Why Atlanta?

The capital city of the state of Georgia, Atlanta is the travel and business hub of the Southeast U.S.A. Home to the world's most trafficked airport and ranked as the United State's least costly city to do business, Atlanta boasts some of the strongest indicators for short-term cash flow and long-term capital growth.

Inhabited by over 5.5 million people, the greater Atlanta area has been the fastest growing metropolitan market in the U.S. for the past decade. Business and tax-friendliness, combined with an exceptional year-round climate, make this location one of the healthiest residential markets in America, commanding strong rents and low absorption rates for entry-level housing.
